FOREWORD

THE STAFF OF HALLS, CAMPUS, WALLS, takes pleasure in presenting this, the twenty-ninth annual of Lenoir Rhyne College.

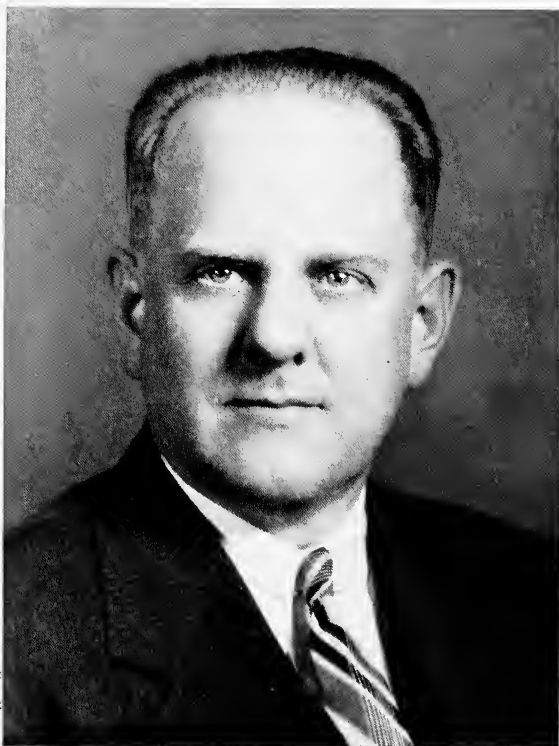

Although it is different in several respects from previous volumes of the HACAWA, the staff-members have endeavored to compile a year-book truly representative of students, faculty, and college. In order to portray typical campus and college life as it actually exists, we have made no effort to carry out an elaborate theme. It has been our motive to inculcate into this edition of the HACAWA, scenes, snapshots, and written material which you will always cherish in your memory.

However, it is our hope that a purpose has been accomplished: Blending into one volume as many of the happy college events of '37-'38 as possible, we hope to perpetuate these happy memories, not only for the present but for the future years, when we reminisce.

With this objective in mind, we present to you—who have made this book possible—the HACAWA of 1938.

DEDICATION

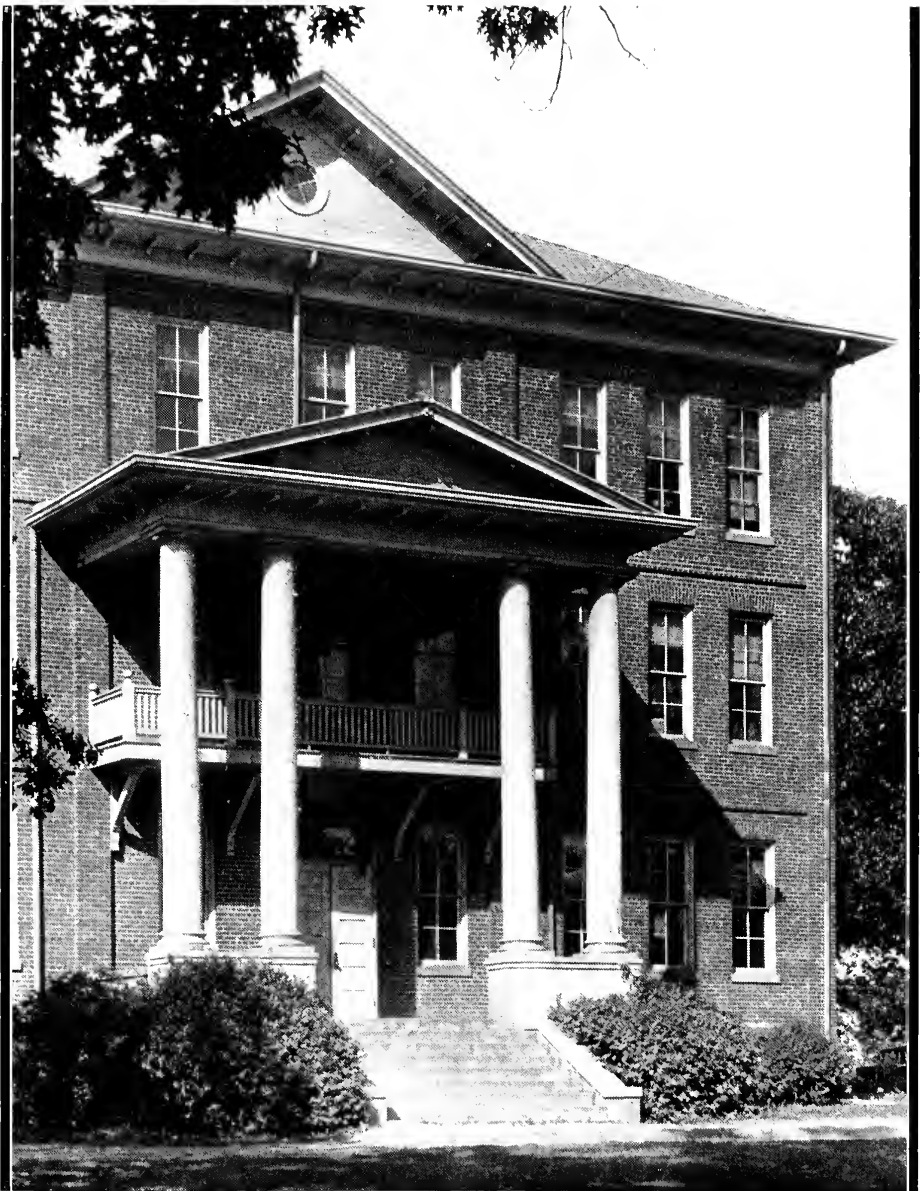

TO PROFESSOR MONROE CRAIG YODER

A son of Lenoir Rhyne College who, from his days as editor of the HACAWA two decades ago to his present position of prominence as chief of one of our major science departments, has known and loved this college and its ideals; a true scientist, ever rendering faithful, untiring service in whatever he undertakes, and ever seeking new fields of endeavor; a man whose courage, faith, and honor have commanded for him the loyalty and admiration of everyone who has known him—to this true friend and counselor we respectfully dedicate this.

DR. PLEASANT EDGAR MONROE, President

PRESIDENT MONROE'S MESSAGE

"Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good to the use of edifying, that it may minister grace unto the hearers. And grieve not the holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption. Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and evil speaking, be put away from you with all malice: And be ye kind one to another, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you."—Eph. 4:39-32.

THE CLASSES

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Four years ago, in September 1934, we, the class of 1938, entered an excursion bus for the Land of Higher Learning.

The roads were rough at first, and some of the passengers became discouraged and homesick, but under the skillful guidance of our leader, Frank Efird, confidence was restored and we continued on our way.

In September, 1935, we resumed the journey. Still under the capable leadership of Frank Efird, we gave a successful party for the incoming freshmen. This year many of the passengers of our class of '38 left markers along the highway for various accomplishments in athletics, journalism, music, dramatics, and forensics.

Again in the Fall of 1936, we assembled for the third year of our quest for the Land of Higher Learning. The climax of this eventful year was the Junior-Senior banquet and dance, skillfully staged by the hard work of our new leader, Alton Brown.

When we started from the fourth station in the Autumn of 1937 we were saddened to think that after traveling the last few miles of our journey we would have finished our journey and would then be separated forever. With B. W. Lanier as our head man, this year was notable for our athletic and scholastic achievements.

And now, after reaching our goal, we realize that our quest really has only started, for we are now at the gateway of life itself. We are thankful to Lenoir Rhyne for preparing us to start on our separate roads, and to attain a definite destination in life. We shall always try to remain true to the high ideals and aspirations of our Alma Mater.

MASCOTS

RITA SIGMON

Rita Sigmon is the four-year-old daughter of Mrs. Guy Sigmon and the late Mr. Sigmon. Like all cute little blondes, she has lots of boy friends—however, she plays no favorites, but claims she "likes 'em all!"

FRED C. ABERNETHY, JR.

Fred Coleman Abernethy, Jr., is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Coleman Abernethy. Freddie is four years old, and very precocious; he likes his spinach, and claims that "he's no sissy" in any man's language!

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

The good ship 1939 is now completing the third year of its voyage with sails set and banners flying.

The Fall of 1935 witnessed its arrival at Lenoir Rhyne. In that year we pulled up anchor and set sail under the leadership of Captain J. L. Beam.

As sophomores we felt wiser during our second year, and we kept true to our course under our new skipper, Miles Whitener. As a crew we learned the value of co-operation and friendship.

As we view the sunset of our junior days, we remember the three years we have sailed together. We have fought through rough seas, at times, but our influence has been felt in every part of our college. As good sailors we have realized the value of an interest in every port and we have also learned how to scrub the decks.

Now, with three years of college life behind us and our senior year before us, we continue to look ahead to the great climax of a work well done. And as our sails carry us forward, as seniors, we go with the assurance that we have the support of the entire crew.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

We, the class of '40, are building—building a structure to be complete at the close of our four years' stay here—a strong fortress to prepare us for the varied experiences and problems to assail us in the years to come.

Late in 1936, our foundation was begun under the supervision of Vance Daniel, whose guidance was augmented by a fine co-operative class spirit. This foundation, firmly laid, was given three months in which to settle, during which time we, the workers, busied ourselves in various fields of activity.

Sunburned and enthusiastic, we resumed our construction in the fall of '37 with Emory Carpenter as job foreman. Directed by his keen vision and business ability, our class continued to progress until now we stand near the halfway mark in the completion of our edifice.

Somewhat proudly we view the product of our labors and see a building of excellent scholarship reinforced with participation in many extra-curricular activities.

Not always does the past offer a correct index to the future; however, it is reasonable to conclude that with our ground work so substantial our superstructure will be likewise.

Thus we, the class of '40, witness the first half of our handiwork and, mingling a bit of the prophetic with the historical, proclaim that we will ever strive to progress so that our stay here will be a credit to our Alma Mater.

FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY

About 150 freshmen who arrived on the Lenoir Rhyne campus last Fall to search for higher learning, today look back on a year of rich experiences and forward to three more, even better years of college.

At first, it may have appeared as if we possessed quantity only, but as the days have passed, we have proved we have quality as well, and we have taken part in many campus activities.

As yet, most of us have no definite idea as to what fields we will enter, but under the guidance of the faculty we expect to learn this soon.

Whether we will become a credit to our Alma Mater remains yet to be definitely determined, but the realization that we are students at Lenoir Rhyne College is a fact of which we are proud.

COMMERCIAL CLASS HISTORY

Early in September the 1937-38 business class arrived on the Lenoir Rhyne Campus amid the welcome of upperclassmen. Unlike the freshmen, however, they expected to stay only one year.

After attending the freshman banquet, these students felt more at home, and then started work when studies began very soon afterwards.

In an election of class officers, Henry Reichard was chosen president, but left school; so the vice-president, Miss Meredith Hendrix, was given the presidency; James Craig was then elected vice-president, and Miss Laura Fox Turbyfill, secretary-treasurer.

Interesting programs prepared by committees were presented at the weekly meetings, with class members furnishing most of the talent.

The November dance was sponsored by the business class, carrying out an "Autumn" motif. The class also entered a float in the "pep parade" on Thanksgiving Day, receiving honorable mention from the judges.

Early in the Spring, the students went on an all-day picnic to the mountains, for one of the outstanding events of the year.

Throughout the year the business class was noted for its work as well as its constant interest in the extra-curricular activities of the other classes. Its members were always welcomed at meetings of campus organizations and were also strong boosters of all athletic events.

All too soon, however, the year will end, and each member will have only his memories. Each feels, though, that with the assistance of Prof. H. L. Creech, he has accomplished much during the year; and that his business life, instead of ending, is just beginning.

THE 1938 HACA WA

Now that the 1938 Edition of HALLS-CAMPUS-WALLS is completed, we realize that another eventful school year has rapidly reached its conclusion.

This Annual is the only complete record of the many past events. In these pages, we have striven to present a variation from previous yearbooks in style, contents, and appearance.

As you turn through the HACA-WA, it is our hope that you will derive as much pleasure from it as we have in composing the material. And in future years, may you turn again for memories of your college days, to your HACA WA for 1938.

THE LENOIR RHYNEAN

"A Greater Lenoir Rhynean—For a Greater Lenoir Rhyne."

With this as their ideal, the editor and the staff of Lenoir Rhyne's weekly newspaper sought to accomplish several major objectives in the progressive development of the publication during the past year. And in the last edition of Volume XXXIX the editor announced to the student body that "These objectives have been accomplished."

Vigorous editorials demanding student government reform succeeded with the ratification of an amendment to the constitution which changed the paper from the basis of the calendar year to the college year, and enabled the adoption of a budget of financial management.

Soon after the ratification of the amendment the editor announced on December 17, 1937, that a standing printing debt of $420 had been paid in full. In the next edition, on January 7, 1938, The Lenoir Rhynean increased its page size to six columns, to complete the changes in make up, contents, and appearance which marked The Lenoir Rhynean throughout the year.

Thus, with the adoption of a budget system, payment of the standing debt, and general enlargement and improvement, The Lenoir Rhynean during the past year has accomplished its major objectives to attain the greatest objective of all—

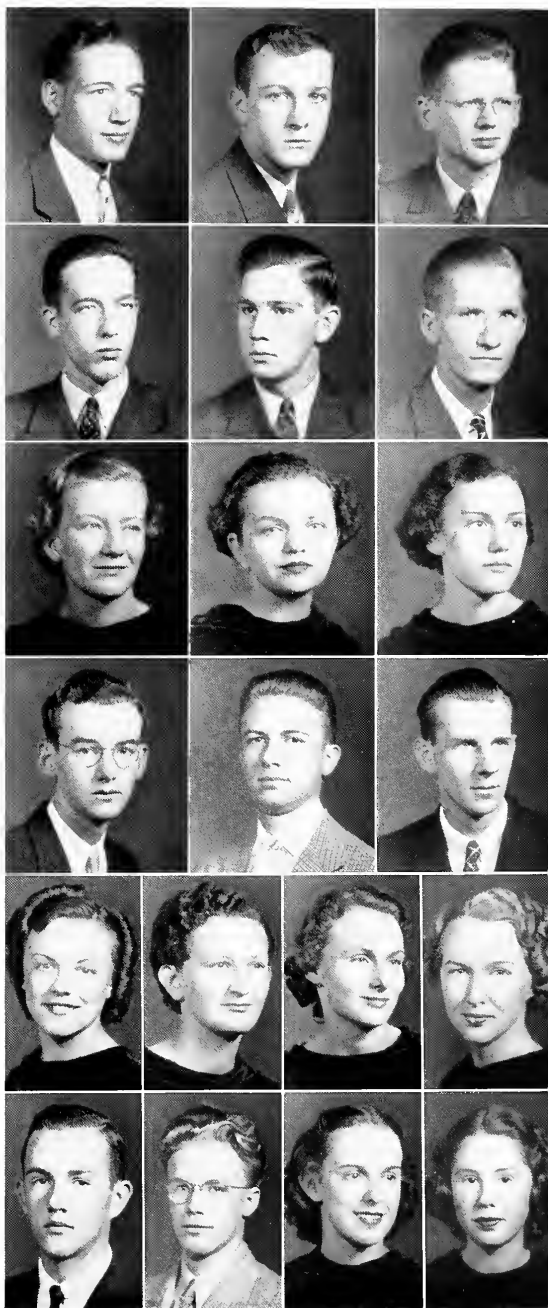

"A Greater Lenoir Rhynean for a Greater Lenoir Rhyne."

Alpha Tau Kappa was organized as a forensic honor society on May 3, 1934, under the leadership of Dr. Albert Keiser, head of the English Department and Director of Forensic Activities. At present there are two chapters, with applications from other schools pending. The Lenoir Rhyne Chapter is designated as Alpha.

There are three divisions, namely, oratory, debate, and instruction. In each division there are three degrees: endeavor, honor, and distinction. Jewels on the key indicate the division and degree of each member. The Greek name represents the first letter of the Greek words meaning Truth, Skill, and Beauty.

LYTLE AND MILLER—State Oratory Contestants

INTERCOLLEGIATE FORENSICS

The forensic season for 1936-1937 was marked like its predecessors by the high standard of achievement.

The debates for both men and women were on the question "Resolved, that Congress should be empowered to fix minimum wages and maximum hours for industry." For the women, Alice Moretz and Inez Seagle upheld the affirmative, while Dorothy Spratt and Annie Lytle defended the negative. As alternates served Katherine Abee, Jessie Baxter, Juanita Houser, and Ruth Hoyle, Miss Hoyle taking part in one intercollegiate non-decision debate. The men's teams consisted of David Miller and J. W. Moran on the affirmative and Joe Caldwell and Herman Nicholson on the negative. Altogether the teams engaged in twenty-four decision debates, of which they won fifteen and lost nine. Thirty-four non-decision debates were also held, twenty of them at the Strawberry Leaf Tournament at Winthrop College, December 3-5, 1936, two against Wake Forest, February 4, 1937, two against Roanoke, February 8, four against Lees-McRae, February 18, and two against Boiling Springs College, February 27.

Both men and women entered the South Atlantic Forensic Tournament at Winthrop College, March 4-6. In the men's division, with twenty-two schools entered, Lenoir Rhyne tied for third place, winning eight and losing four debates, gaining second place in the state. The affirmative won over Maryville, Emory and Henry, Guilford, Furman, and High Point, losing only to Union University, while the negative broke even, winning over Union University, Guilford, and Tusculum, but losing to Erskine, College of Charleston, and Carson-Newman. The women's teams tied for third place among the nine colleges with seven wins and five losses, trying for first place in North Carolina. The affirmative won over Appalachian State Teachers, Asheville Teachers, and Guilford, but lost to Maryville, Western Carolina, and Alabama College, while the negative won over Asheville Teachers, Western Carolina, Guilford, and Appalachian State Teachers, but lost to Maryville and Alabama College. For the tenth consecutive year the teams won the majority of their debates.

In the seven individual contests Lenoir Rhyne won many honors. Among sixteen contestants in the Men's Extempore, Herman Nicholson won second place and first in North Carolina. Annie Lytle won the N. C. Women's Impromptu, while Inez Seagle was first in Women's Oratory, Extempore Speaking, and After Dinner Speaking. The victory in Oratory gave Lenoir Rhyne permanent possession of the state trophy, having won it three times. In the Strawberry Leaf Tournament, December 3-5, Inez Seagle won the gold medal in Women's Impromptu, while Annie Lytle won three state and one inter-state titles in the Southeastern Experimental Tournament, March 4-5 at Winthrop. Herman Nicholson was the college orator in the South Atlantic, March 4 and in the Peace Oratorical, May 4.

Lenoir Rhyne is considered a leader in forensic activities, a place won by hard work and fair dealing. In debate and individual contests her record compares favorably with much larger schools. In both the N. C. Peace Contest and the Women's Oratorical Contest she holds first place. Her forensic coach, Dr. Albert Keiser, was instrumental in founding the N. C. Intercollegiate Forensic Association and has for eleven years served as the Executive Secretary-Treasurer. He also founded the South Atlantic Forensic Tournament and has remained its Director.

At Lenoir Rhyne College, and at over a hundred other institutions in the United States, membership in Alpha Psi Omega is the biggest goal of those seriously interested in the stage.

Lenoir Rhyne's Gamma Eta "cast," or chapter, the first of its kind in North Carolina, was founded in 1930, largely because of the efforts of Mrs. Pearl Setzer Deal, dramatics director here since 1927.

With the presentation of their annual Drama Week this spring, the Lenoir Rhyne Playmakers draw near the close of another successful year on the campus, to be completed with the annual Commencement Play.

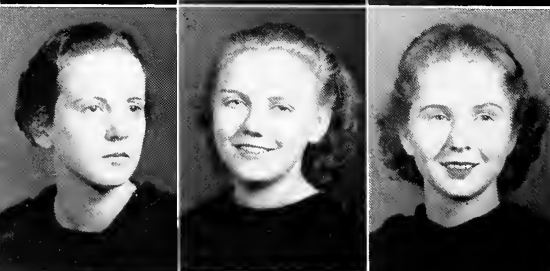

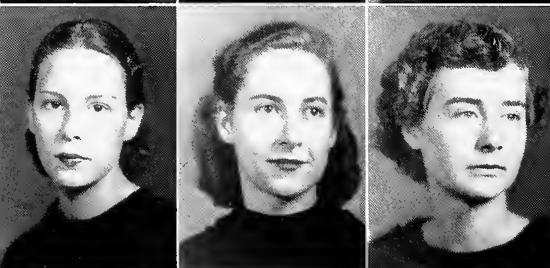

Recently, in the Spring Festival at the University of North Carolina, they presented "Courtship," a one-act comedy. "Scare Streamer," an original drama by Frank VanderLinden, was staged as one of the two entries from colleges and universities in the state.

The Playmakers turned to Shakespeare for their Fall Play during the past year when they presented "Two Gentlemen of Verona" to a capacity audience for two performances.

Other original scripts written by Lenoir Rhyne students and entered in the playwriting contest were: "The Ocean Type," by Miss Elaine von Oeson; "Jumping The Fence," by Miss Inez Seagle; "Parsonage Gossip," by Miss Mildred Shealy; and "Intestinal Fortitude," by Miss Nancy Kirkpatrick.

The Playmakers presented as the 1937 Commencement Play, George Kaufman's three-act drama, "Dulcy."

Beta chapter of Gamma Beta Chi, the national fraternity, stands for unity at Lenoir Rhyne College—unity dominated by strength of will, courage of conviction, integrity of honor.

Firmly believing in the power of these principles, Gamma Beta Chi has established its leadership on this campus in every field of endeavor. Its members are recognized leaders—in government, journalism, scholarship, athletics, religious activities.

The members of Gamma Beta Chi, furthermore are brothers. The benefits they receive from their close fellowship are second only to the service of the fraternity to the college.

Since its organization in the fall of 1934, the Rhynoir Society has progressed in all fields of endeavor in which it has chosen to become affiliated. Its members are leaders in all campus activities.

The organization endeavors to create more and better school spirit; to help in the unification of the student body; and to uphold and back measures proposed by the Administration and Student Body.

During the past year members have beautified the fraternity rooms, formed reading facilities and library consisting of over one hundred volumes, revised its constitution, and sponsored several colorful dances.

Dr. Karl Z. Morgan is Adviser and Honorary member of the Rhynoir Society.

The International Relations Club, now in its third year, has proved to be one of the most active organizations on the campus. The purpose of the club is to foster an interest in national and international affairs and to provide a place for free discussion and expression of opinion by the students.

In its bi-weekly meetings the club conducts discussions on current topics at which time assigned speakers make reports and an open forum is held. Besides the regular programs, joint meetings with other clubs are held. Public programs in observance of nationally important events have been sponsored by the local group.

The club belongs to the Federation of International Relations Clubs which is sponsored by the Carnegie Endowment for Peace and Lenoir Rhyne is represented in the annual Southeastern Conference of that organization.

Professor V. V. Aderholdt, as the faculty adviser, has been of invaluable assistance in the club's work.

Lenoir Rhyne's a capella choir, under the direction of Professor Kenneth B. Lee, head of the college music department, has continued this year the progress noted since its organization three years ago.

The choir is now completing another annual series of tours, visiting numerous churches in various parts of the state. Its membership now is the largest in history.

As one of Lenoir Rhyne's major extra-curricular activities, the a capella choir is also proving an excellent "advertisement" for the college.

Under the able direction and supervision of Miss Helen Stabler, the girls' choir, organized at the beginning of the school year, has shown remarkable progress.

Miss Stabler teaches her pupils the essential and basic fundamentals of choir training. Many of those who are now members will receive places in the a capella choir in the future.

The Diakonian Club, as the name implies, provides a field of activity for men who are interested in the Service of the Master. Although many of its members are pre-theological students, the club's membership is by no means restricted to that group, but is open to all men who are interested in religious work. Regular meetings are held each week by the Diakonians, at which time various types of programs are provided, including devotions, discussions, and talks by members and guest speakers.

Under the leadership of their new coach, Albert Spurlock, the Lenoir Rhyne Mountain Bears opened the 1937 season away from home, playing the strong Roanoke team at Salem, Va. Although the Bears put up a good fight, they lost 13 to 0.

The Bruins were still the losers side after the next game with Appalachian, going down, 12 to 0. Victory in the mud came to the Bears on October 8th, when they nosed out the strong and powerful Hampden-Sydney eleven in Charlotte, 7 to 6. Elon, the next foe to enter the Bear den, went away with a 27 to 6 victory. The Bears tied with the Maryville invaders in the rain at Hickory for the first deadlock of the season. Traveling to Guilford, the Bears beat the "Quakers" 13 to 0.

Then the invading Naval Apprentice Sailors, playing, tied the Bruins seven all in a hotly contested game. Lenoir Rhyne then went to Florida to play Stetson University, but lost to the sun-baked Hatters 20 to 6. The Bruins took W. C. T. C. 18 to 0 in another muddy battle. On Thanksgiving, Homecoming day, the Bears lost to Catawba, 13 to 0, to wind up the season. Perry, Huss, Womack, R. McSwain, and Cline will be lost by graduation.

Cecil Sigmon and Dan Lockman have been elected co-captains of the 1939 Bear team succeeding Captain Tobe Womack.

Results of the season:

The Lenoir Rhyne basketball team tied with the High Point Panthers for second place in the North State Conference and were the only team in the loop to defeat the Elon champions. They rang up 960 points to set a new record, while their opponents' totaled only 697 points.

Lenoir Rhyne won fifteen games and lost five, four in the conference, beating each member of the conference at least once during the season.

Bill Tucker, last year's All-Conference center, led the squad with 206 points, Felix Little following with 167 points. Captain Reese McSwain was placed on the All-Conference team for the third straight time. "Rip" finished his college career when the Bears won over the High Point Panthers in the last game of the season. He is the only Bear who will not return next year.

Getting off to a slow start, the Bruins finished up as a house a-fire. They lost their four conference games at the beginning of the season.

Bill Tucker and Joe Amendola were elected Co-Captains for next year. Both boys have been on the Bear team since their freshman year and both will be seniors next year.

The Bruins freshman team won six games and lost only one game. The cubs scored 260 points, while their opponents only scored 219 points. Hamrick led the squad with 59 points, followed by Newton with 54 points.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

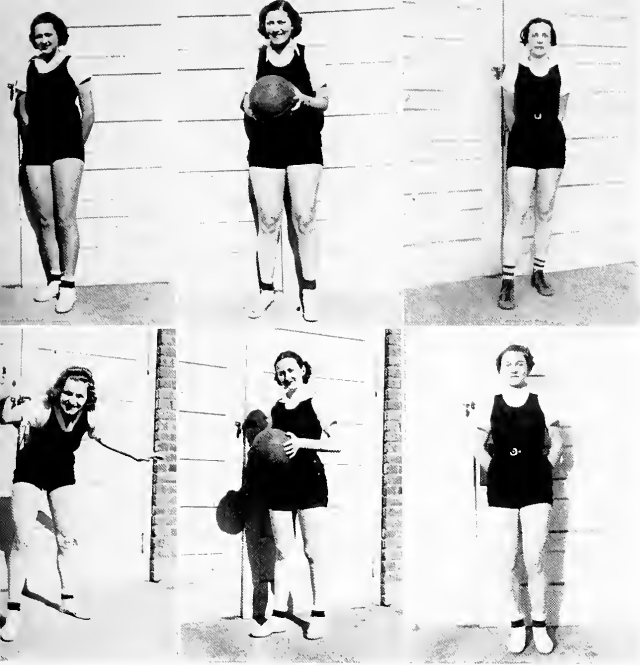

The Bearettes did not enjoy their best season in 1938, winning three games, tying two, losing 4, and scoring 203 points to their opponents' 224. Although the girls did not chalk up a very impressive record they showed the true Bear spirit and fight that has made them famous in the State for their courage and determination.

The Co-Eds got off to a bad start by tying the Alumni and losing their next three games to Mitchell, Appalachian, and Boiling Springs. Playing Appalachian, they tied the strong team from Boone, 24-all, then lost to the powerful and deadly shooting Mitchell five from Statesville. The Bearettes won their last three games to wind up their season strongly.

Sickness and accidents handicapped the Lenoir Rhyne lassies at the beginning of the season, but Coach "Pat" Shores made the best of it and turned out a team that was a credit to Lenoir Rhyne. The Bearettes also had the able assistance of "Rip" McSwain, Joe Amendola, and Cecil Sigmon, who were assistant coaches.

Outstanding players on the team were: Alternate-Captain Frances Wike, Daisy Dean Boggs, Pauline Yount, Captain Ruth Wright, Annie Lee Parker, Dorothy Travis, Ruebelle Anderson, Freda Smyre, Evelyn Barringer, Frances Shuford, Joan Whitener, and Frances Gilbert.

The Lenoir Rhyne baseball team of 1937 failed to make the top bracket for the first time in many years. Nevertheless, the Bears were feared and respected by their foes in the North State conference. Playing eighteen games in all, fourteen in the conference, the Bears won five conference games, dropping three to Catawba, and two each to High Point, Elon, and Guilford.

The Bears won three brilliant contests outside the conference, defeating Springfield, 7 to 4; Emory and Henry, 9 to 4, and the Hickory "Rebels," 5 to 4. Valdese won over the Bruins 7 to 3, for the one defeat outside the conference.

The batting average for the entire team was .269. Hinse Quinn led the regular players with a batting average of .378 and a fielding average of .950, and thus was voted the team's outstanding player. Ed Tuttle was voted the most valuable pitcher on the staff, having won five games, and driven in the most runs.

The '38 Bear team will be led by Co-Captains Clyde McSwain and Ed Tuttle, succeeding Captain Buck Perry.

TENNIS TEAM

The 1937 Lenoir Rhyne tennis team, under the leadership of Captain Dick Lawrence, finished second in the North State Conference last year. Elon was the only team that beat the Bears twice during the season.

Three seniors last year graduated, Dick Lawrence, a letterman, who had been on the team since his freshman year, Ernest Misenheimer, letterman, who served as a player-manager, and John Kelly.

Several new men were a great help to the success of the team. Charles Morrison, Jack Mauney, Auburn Poovey, and Berge Beam, proved themselves to be valuable men and returned this year to help the 1938 team. Mauney doubled with Lawrence to lead the team in wins in the doubles matches while Poovey led the entire Bear racquetters in the number of singles matches won.

Jack Mauney has proved to be an able captain of the team this year. Frank Efird served as manager for the 1938 team.

A good book is something you open with anticipation and close with pleasure and pride.

THIS is a good book. To the Editorial Staff's intimate knowledge of the history of your school for the year has been added the skill and craftsmanship of an organization with more than forty-five years continuous operation to bring to you in permanent, lasting form, this record of school life.

It is the product of a printing house where the pride of hand craftsmen is augmented with every modern mechanical facility.

It is the result of cooperation between Staff and publishers personnel you will ever find at . . .

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

THANKS A MILLION—

To all who have given suggestions and lent a helping hand toward preparing the 1938 HACAWA.

To MR. EVERETTE BIERMAN and MR. HERBERT HITCH of the Charlotte Engraving Company for constructive advice and the courtesy extended to us on our visits to their plant.

To MR. WILLIAM CRICHTON, JR., of the Observer Printing House for his work in helping us prepare this book, also for the courtesy he has shown us while we were in Charlotte.

To the DUNBAR AND DANIEL STUDIO of Raleigh for excellent photography and service; also the consideration which they have shown us.

To WARREN'S STUDIO of Hickory for their valuable work and helpful assistance.

To ROBERT CILLEY of Cilley's Studio for valuable photographic work.

To the HACAWA-FACULTY committee, Professor Yoder, Professor Aderholdt, and Dr. Marion for their many helpful suggestions.

To MISS GLADYS BARGER and MISS REBECCA DELANE of the business office for their work instrumental toward the success of this publication.

To PROFESSOR SCHOTT and FRANK EFIRD for their work and suggestions.

To the STUDENT BODY for backing this edition of the college annual.

To all of you we are deeply grateful and owe our appreciation!
